

REVIEWS

2016 YEAR IN REVIEW FALL

🕒 AUGUST 22, 2017 👤 JOE HUBBARD 💬 0 COMMENTS

2016 Year in Review Fall
September – October

How-To Halloween

Halloween is my favorite holiday of the year. How could I not attend an event centered on Halloween? This event, held in Lansing, is a combination of part convention and part maker faire. There were a plethora of vendors who's wares focused on the macabre. If you wanted to meet real life paranormal investigators, you had the opportunity to do so. The 20ft(ish) high giant inflatable T-Rex was a sight to see. I thought the pumpkins that lit up when you touched them where cool. If you like Halloween, this event will not steer you wrong.

This event marked the first time MIGeekScene was featured in a program booklet as a media presence. I have been on numerous media and press lists throughout my time with MIGeekScene. That is nothing new for me. However, to have my organization officially listed in the “media dungeon” section of the program was nice. I like that I’ve been recognized for all the work I’ve done these past years. It gives a nice validation to what I do.

